

BURLESON SEES HOPE FOR PACT

Postmaster General in Texas on Brief Visit to Relatives.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 28.—Postmaster General A. S. Burleson, who has been spending a brief period here with relatives and looking into suitable private matters, left Wednesday for San Antonio where he will spend a short time with his daughter, Mrs. Richard Hingley, after which he will return to Washington.

Commenting upon the rejection of the peace treaty and league of nations covenant, Mr. Burleson stated the responsibility was of the Republicans; that he was "sure action of the Republicans was disappointing to every one."

"I feel sanguine that all will be well. Just now there seems to be a difference of opinion with some of the senatorial parliamentary groups as to where the document really is. I don't believe the senate is not before the senate. I should not be at all surprised if President Wilson should recall it, offering in its place another, which may be a bit changed. But I feel sure the entire country will insist on ratification of the league, with some reservations if need be."

EL PASOAN RETURNS FROM COBLENZ FOR THANKSGIVING

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 28.—Mr. J. H. O'Brien, a son of Mrs. J. H. O'Brien, of the Star hotel, has returned to El Paso after an absence of more than seven years.

Little Wednesday night Mr. O'Brien received a telegram from his son, stating that he was on his way to El Paso to spend Thanksgiving day, and, Thursday morning, the gentleman arrived here to make his home with his mother.

Mr. O'Brien served first with the regular American army in the Philippines. When war was declared against Germany he joined the National Guard, and was sent to France, where he saw some hot service with an artillery unit. He then was transferred to the army of occupation where he remained until his discharge in Coblenz, October 30.

AMERICAN IS SHOT IN MEXICO

Latest Outrage is Declared
Almost Last Straw at U. S. Capital.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—James Wallace, American citizen, was shot and killed by Carranza soldiers near Tampico last Wednesday.

The state department today was advised of the killing and immediately ordered a thorough investigation.

Details of this latest outrage were lacking, but administration officials did not hesitate to characterize it as "almost the last straw" in the chain of "aggravating" incidents which have occupied the attention of the state department for several months.

ADCLUB ELECTS NEW MEMBERS

Many Matters Brought Before
Luncheon of Local Advertisers.

Four new members were admitted into the Advertising club at its Friday luncheon. Others are pending. It was reported at the meeting, President Scott C. White said a systematic canvass will be made by committee for members, following the recent affiliation with the chamber of commerce and incorporation of the Adclub.

John H. Reagan, business agent of the club, reported several matters for the vigilance committee, in connection with the publicity work he is doing to strengthen the club and inform every chamber of commerce member of the work. All transient advertising agencies are being referred to Mr. Reagan or Rufe P. March, the secretary, by business men.

Help in Finding Jobs for the returned soldiers and sailors was asked of the club by El Paso post, American Legion.

W. R. Shutes read the resolution against "red flagging" in this community and the United States, drawn up by a committee for filing with other organizations.

A request for funds from the state-wide campaign by the Benevolent War Risk society to aid in caring for Texas fighters who contracted tuberculosis in the war was read, after Karl M. Roberts explained the efforts being made by the chamber of commerce to secure a federal appropriation for a convalescent hospital near Fort Bliss.

New Members Elected
W. H. Daugherty, W. K. Hill, L. Gardner and Roy C. Cole were elected members of the Adclub.

Mr. Daugherty and James S. Chalmers were speakers on the subject of rapidly extending the club's membership to all business people who are buying and selling.

President White called on all retail people to attend the meeting at the chamber of commerce Tuesday night.

Madrid, Spain, Nov. 28.—Spain has broken off all relations with the Soviet government of Russia. CAPT. MINTER IS HURT IN MOTORCYCLE ACCIDENT

Capt. Otis L. Minter, of the ordnance department, well known in El Paso, where he was commanding an ordnance depot during portions of 1917 and 1918, was injured in a motorcycle accident a few days ago when the machine left the road and went down a six foot embankment into a ditch and among rocks. The accident happened on a road between San Antonio and Camp Stanley, Texas. Capt. Minter suffered a dislocation of the neck and a few bruises, but is rapidly convalescent.

Capt. Minter's present station is in the San Antonio arsenal, but he is temporarily on duty as instructor in the ordnance training schools at Camp Stanley.

COL. GIMPERLING TO GO TO WASHINGTON FOR DUTY

Lieut. Col. Thomas N. Gimperling, of the El Paso high school battalion of cadets, will leave Saturday for Washington, D. C., to report for duty in the office of the quartermaster general. GERMAN DELEGATION PRESENTS NOTE ON SCAPA FLOW SINKING

Paris, France, Nov. 28.—The German delegation today delivered two notes to Paul Dutas, secretary of the peace conference. One relates to the sinking of the German warship sunk by their crew in Scapa Flow and the other to the repatriation of German prisoners.

Dissemination of the German fleet in Scapa Flow and the compensation to be obtained therefor, the supreme council today admitted in principle the demolition of the units still in the hands of the allies, but the question of the distribution of scrap metal resulting from the breaking up of the ships was not decided.

France and Italy, whose ship building yards have been idle since 1914, will receive certain units intact as compensation for tonnage lost during the war.

Little Bobbie's Pa

By WILLIAM F. KIRK.

I AM feeling drowsy, and Pa, up here at Liverest in our little bungalow—also.

That last word was quite a mouthful, said Ma.

This is quite a locustian, said Pa. This little manna of ours. Hoars is wars the hart is, and Pa's hart is certainly here, Bobbie, and Pa, bring me a match with which I will light this expensive cigar, said Pa.

You must be careful how you smoke cigars here until we get this place insured, said Ma.

I have been smoking 30 years, said Pa. I never set fire to anything yet except a few million matches, said Pa.

How drowsy I but feel it is here, said Ma. I end spend the rest of my days here.

Different in December.
That sounds O. K. now, and Pa, but along in December, with a nice blizzard howling, and Pa, you would want to be back in town looking at Willyum Hart shooting holes in a moving picture.

I suppose so, said Ma, but Nater weaves such a spell over her children and Ma, that they have sum very tender mood.

It was on such a day as this, said Pa, that you & I romped down the lane among the golden rods & I proposed love's old Swag dance to you, said Pa.

It was, said Ma, I recollect it well. You looked like a king to me that day, and Ma, sum of the goldenrod must have got in my eyes that day, said Ma.

You looked the same to me then that you do now, said Pa. You were beautiful then & you are beautiful now. You are the ideal of my dream, and Pa, the Adam's apple of my eye, and Pa.

That is very kindly, said Ma; I guess you are at your best up here in the air, surrounded by trees. Somehow, said Ma, back in old New York you were always too busy to say all the little tender things which you say now.

Pretty busy in City.
I was pretty busy here for a dozen years, said Ma, and Pa. Well I was going fine, and Pa, the Subway Express always tried to creep & crawl. But that is all over now, and Pa, & Nater's tired son has come home to roost, said Ma. Bobbie, and Pa, film me another of them clouds out of that Horn of Plenty on the table, said Pa.

You are smoking a bit too much, said Ma. It is a foolish habit, is it not?

The most foolish habit in the world, said Pa, is looking around to find sum way to avoid sumbody else's pleasure, said Pa. The foolish habit in this world, and Pa, is the habit of looking at sumbody else's reformer in the missing link, and Pa, between sorrow and society. I guess, that's good, said Pa. I will have to remember that. Put that in your next essay, Bobbie, and Pa, & give me credit for it. Pa always wants credit for everything.
